"What can we say to parents who have lost a child? How can we console them? There are no words,"

—Pope Francis, October 31, 2024

Pope Francis has a special place in his heart for parents whose children have died, as evidenced by his many comments over the past 11 years. He understands their devastating pain and has compassionately reached out to offer peace and comfort

This month he is reaching out to the entire world asking for prayers for these broken parents. Thank you, Pope Francis!

THE EMMAUS MINISTRY FOR GRIEVING PARENTS

Answering the call of Pope Francis to help parents find the Holy Spirit's peace and consolation, the Emmaus Ministry for Grieving Parents serves the spiritual needs of grieving parents whose children of any age, who have died by any cause, no matter how long ago. It has been focusing on the promise of eternal life and walking with parents in their spiritual journeys after the death of their children since 2009.
